Grace Covenant, United States, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 279 x 216 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .The ValueGiver Study Guide is the study companion for the book, The ValueGiver, by Dallas Elder. In The ValueGiver, Elder speaks to the depreciating power of issues like rejection, failure, inferiority, injustice and prejudice among others. He describes how people often assess their value as a person from these experiences, leaving them with a deep deficit of self-worth. He relates how God loves us (as illustrated through the life of Jesus-The ValueGiver) and how that through His grace and power, we can be redeemed from the past and its depreciating experiences. Furthermore, Dallas Elder underscores the tendency that people have to view and relate to others through the lens of their own value. People often assign value to others based upon their own assessed value. Devalued people devalue others, or put others down to elevate themselves. He illustrates ways that we can increase worth and appreciate value in others. The ValueGiver Study Guide, is written in a workbook format that easily helps the individual to work through the chapters of The ValueGiver in 13 lessons. Through discovery questions, personal reflection exercises and a fluid pace, the author leads the individual to a fuller understanding of how to receive true worth as a self-image statement. By identifying areas of personal depreciation and working through them, people are helped to gain positive self-image affirmation through God's love. It is a guided journey to overcome negative life messages and experiences that form a distorted self-image and limited life vision. Through examining related Scripture passages and probing real life questions that lead to personal discovery and clear steps of personal decision, Dallas Elder guides individuals buried under inadequacy, inferiority and...
