That which ought to be characteristic of every educated person, we look for almost in vain among the majority of the most highly educated. Instead of sonorously vocalizing, crisply articulating and speaking out to their hearers, they mutter and mumble and speak to themselves. The fundamental fault is the absence of phonetic syllabication. Syllables and words run together, so that the closest attention is required to enable the hearer to gather...

Reviews

This is the finest book i have got study right up until now. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
