

The Negro artisan Report of a social study made under the direction of Atlanta University together with the proceedings of the seventh Conference . held at Atlanta University, on May 27th, 1902

By William Edward Burghardt Du Bois

RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 84 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.2in. This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1902 edition. Excerpt: . . . would be of very much use to them as skilled workmen. The wages are such that a young man would not be induced to brave the disadvantages to fit himself for the trades. There seems to be a difference of opinion as to whether the Negro is gaining or losing in skilled work. But we think that from the fact that there is such a great discrimination in wages which would possibly force the best mechanics to seek other employment more remunerative, and because of the low class of work which the Negro is forced to do in many of the trades, which robs him of any chance to do fine work and to become an all-round workman in his trade, and from the many limitations and unjust laws passed by the labor unions, the Negro in our section is losing. This may not...

READ ONLINE
[4.09 MB]

Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

-- Ally Reichel

This publication is amazing. It is definitely basic but shocks in the fifty percent of your publication. You wont feel monotony at anytime of your own time (that's what catalogues are for concerning if you question me).

-- Prof. Kirk Cruickshank DDS